

THE EVENING NEWS.

THIRD YEAR—NO. 893

BENTON HARBOR, MICH., MONDAY, AUGUST 22, 1898.

TWO CENTS

MILES THE MAN

Honor Doesn't Belong to Shafter.

Held Command Against Orders.

Sensational Charges Against Him.

Philadelphia, Aug. 22.—The Times this morning publishes sensational charges in connection with the Santiago campaign. It is alleged that Miles was chosen to command the Cuban forces but was held back by intrigue and the suppression of orders. Telegrams were sent him that were never delivered.

The president has given him copies of these telegrams and a thorough investigation will be made either by the president or by the congressional committee.

When Miles went to Cuba he was under the impression that he was to take command but Shafter confronted him with telegrams stating that he (Shafter) should remain in command.

Miles has been assured by the president that he would be in command of the army without interference from anybody. The belief is current that an investigation will disclose that the lives of many soldiers have been needlessly sacrificed at Santiago during and after the battle because the orders of Miles given under instructions from the president were either disobeyed or disregarded.

HAMILTON IS HERE

Explains the Post Office Removal Matter.

Says It Should Go Where It Is The Most Convenient.

Congressman E. L. Hamilton was in the city looking over the postoffice situation and it is safe to say that he found a few people who were not in favor of the removal of the office.

Mr. Hamilton was interviewed by a representative of THE NEWS at the Hotel Benton this afternoon and when asked what he thought about the removal said:

"I did not know when the inspectors visited Benton Harbor nor when bid were received and had no knowledge of the situation until called to my attention a short time ago. I was then informed that there was a vigorous protest against the change of site of the postoffice as agreed to by the inspectors. Those opposed to the removal requested me to file their protest in the department and accompany the filing of protest with a letter stating to the department that there was dissatisfaction with the proposed site. I made such showing to the department and requested that three inspectors be sent to Benton Harbor to review the situation with a view to the location of the postoffice in a manner satisfactory to the patrons.

"The matter of the location of post-offices is one over which the department claims exclusive jurisdiction restricting that it shall not be controlled by politics but shall be settled as a business matter. Inspectors are employed under the law to assist in carrying out this policy. The question of postoffice sites is one that occurs from time to time in the district and it has been my uniform policy not to take sides as no benefit could be derived from so doing and much injury might be done but each contest has been settled by the department on showing by patrons of the office in question after investigation by the inspectors who are employed for that purpose.

"I have no possible interest in the location of postoffices except that it should be located for the convenience of the public."

ROMAN I. JARVIS UNANIMOUSLY ENDORSED

Berrien Springs, Aug. 22.—There is a small attendance at the democratic county convention here today, smaller than that which attended the county convention held two months ago. The forenoon session was quite harmonious but the knowing ones declare that this afternoon session will see fun. There are many candidates in the field for every office and some of the faithful ones will go home disappointed.

James Babcock, county chairman, called the convention to order and introduced Mayor Starr of St. Joseph as temporary chairman. Upon taking the chair Mayor Starr made an address that awoke the cheers and enthusiasm of the audience. He believed that the democrats of the county were united in their support of the Chicago platform, otherwise he would not accept the chairmanship of the convention. He predicted that the democrats would elect their county ticket and their state legislative ticket and in 1900 they would nominate William Jennings Bryan and out of 13,000,000 votes cast he would receive 11,000,000. The democrats yelled and cheered when the speaker made this announcement.

Mathias Weber, city clerk of St. Joseph, was made temporary secretary, and with Mayor Starr and the city clerk on the platform the convention looked much like a meeting of the St. Joseph city council. The following committees were appointed:

Credentials—James O'Hara, Warren G. Griffin, James Knight, George Murock and B. Hinchman.

Permanent organization and order of business—W. C. Hicks, Gus Knaak, Ira Stemm, A. Croe, E. B. Clapsaddle. Resolutions—F. M. Van Horn, U. H. Stebbins, Frank Bracelin, A. H. Howe. The convention adjourned until 1 o'clock.

This afternoon when the democrats assembled they wasted an hour and a half in talk without doing anything. The committee on resolutions, through their chairman, F. M. Van Horn reported a red hot silver platform endorsing the Chicago platform, endorsing Bryan referring to him as the man who made the gallant fight of 1896 favoring the free coinage of silver 16 to 1 and denouncing gold monometallism as the cause of our financial distress, opposed bond issues, favored the income tax and commended the conduct of the war by the national administration. It leaves the question in regard to territorial acquisition to the next democratic national convention, praised Pingree for his watchful care of the silver boys in camp and field and unanimously endorsed Roman I. Jarvis as the choice of the democrats of Berrien county for congress.

The resolutions brought forth a storm of discussion. James O'Hara of St. Joseph was against endorsing the national platform and the administration of Governor Pingree although personally he was willing to agree that Pingree was popular but it was not politics to do it.

Theodore G. Beaver of Niles declared that the democrats did not want to put any monies over the governor.

The discussion on the platform lasted for some time. The convention refused to accept the report of the committee on resolutions and a new committee was appointed to draft resolutions on three points, the favoring of the administration, of Pingree's administration and the choice of Roman I. Jarvis for congress.

The fight over the Jarvis resolution became so personal that loud words were passed between James O'Hara and Frank Bracelin of St. Joseph and at one time a personal encounter was expected. Matters cooled off, however, and Attorney Beaver of Niles moved to endorse Jarvis for congress. James O'Hara supported it and it passed unanimously. Jarvis made a happy speech.

THE WEATHER.

Thunder storms tonight or Tuesday.

Automatic Electric Fog Signal.

An automatic electric fog signal has just been invented. It consists of a large wheel placed at the side of the line near a station, and containing round its circumference thirty-two barrels, each holding two cartridges. A second rail laid down near the apparatus is depressed by the passing train, and in its turn pulls back and then releases a hammer, which strikes a cap and explodes the two cartridges. By means of a rod attached the machine is automatically reset when the train is passed, and the hammer returns to position to fire the next barrel. It is connected by electricity with the signals, and the man in the box can set or disconnect it by touching a button. The disconnection is worked by a magnet, which draws down the hammer and prevents firing. Moreover, a tell-tale in the box shows the signal man exactly when the train fires the cartridges, and if the line is clear he presses a button, which rings a gong close to the engine. The train can thus proceed without loss of time, and often without slackening.

Pathetic Hopes.

What could be more pathetic, asks the Spokane Spokesman-Review, than the spectacle daily presented in this city, when the overland trains move through with their burdens of eager, joyous and deluded humanity making for the hardships and the perils of the Klondike? These happy gold seekers are passing through Spokane at the rate of from 300 to 500 daily. For the most part, they are young men, often mere boys from the farm, the counter and the factory. Many of them never beheld a mountain until they entered upon their present journey. Few of them have borne burdens upon their backs, or waded icy streams, or navigated tempestuous lakes. At the undertaking they are facing they are worse than tyros. They are mere children. Not one in a hundred knows what he is going against. The pathos will come in the undeceiving—when hope has burned low and the ugly truth is before them; when many of them shall break down on the terrible trails and some of them shall die far from their home and kindred.

The foregoing was the opinion Saturday night, as alleged, but yesterday it was modified, and it was generally agreed that the word "suburb" had a distinct meaning and could not be expanded to cover the earth. It is pointed out that the terms of the capitulation of Manila can have but little effect upon the action of the Paris peace commission in any event.

BEET SUGAR FACTORY

People Enthused at Saturday's Meeting...

The beet sugar factory now seems a certainty for Benton Harbor. All that is needed to secure it is the earnest co-operation of all the people of the vicinity. That co-operation is secured. The chairman of the meeting, Hon. J. W. Fletcher of St. Joseph, was as enthusiastic and as much in earnest as was any citizen of Benton Harbor.

Mr. Fuhrman, the Chicago expert, explained the wonderful profit in the growing of sugar beets and the manufacture of sugar. In Germany beet sugar could be profitably made for 2 cents per pound and it could be made cheaper in this country. European wages are lower than here but one American will do as much work as three Europeans. This was the testimony of a man who was a German himself. A sugar factory of the smallest size will make from $4,000 to $6,000 per day. There is no chance for over-production as the consumption doubles every nine years.

C. M. Garrison of Bay City followed with an address full of facts and figures. Back in the time of the first Napoleon France was shut out of the sugar market in the West Indies and the chemists were set to work to find methods of growing sugar at home. The sugar beet was brought into use and from that time on the industry has grown and prospered. The farmer can make twice as much raising sugar beets as from any other crop and the profits in manufacturing sugar are larger than along any other line. When Napoleon extracted sugar from beets it required 1740 pounds of beets for 100 pounds of sugar and now it requires only 800 pounds of beets for 100 pounds of sugar.

Chairman Fletcher at the close of the speech declared that the people of Berrien county would beat themselves if the opportunity was not improved.

Remarks were made by several farmers who were sick of wasting time and land in raising fruit at a loss. George F. Comings of St. Joseph wanted to make the factory a co-operative one and this idea seemed to strike a popular chord. Another farmer agreed to plow up five or eight acres of land and give the use of it the first year.

At the close of the meeting the committee wrote up contracts for about 300 acres.

WATCH FOR HIM.

Under Sheriff Earl Wants the Blish Burglar.

Under Sheriff Earl of Niles has sent over the country postal cards reading as follows:

On Saturday morning at about 2:30 o'clock at Niles, W. G. Blish was awakened by a burglar raising a window at his residence. He at once arose, and taking his revolver stepped to the window and shot. He evidently hit his man for at daylight a trail of blood could be traced about three blocks, and on the lawn was picked up pieces of flesh and a back tooth from the lower jaw, showing that the man had been shot in the face or mouth and must have been badly wounded as he bled freely.

All officers be on the watch and notify your doctors. Wire me if found: I will settle.

Slow Barcelona—Slower Madrid.

Barcelona is a great trading port, a cut on a level with Marseilles. It has grown very much within recent years. The Barcelonense consider themselves a model to all Spain in the matter of industry and in common sense, yet in this town, which is really a handsome place and rich, the head telegraph office is in the suburbs; there is only one branch office in town, and messages have to be sent from that by hand. The postoffice is well away from the port in a by-street. If you are there on business, you will find as likely as not that one clerk is in attendance out of an immense staff. He will probably be very polite, but he will put his hand to a pen or a bundle of letters as if he feared they would burn, and Barcelona is a model of smartness compared with Madrid.

One wonders what would happen to the dawdling officials one sees at these places if they were transported by some malignant fairy to St. Martin-le-Grand. Madness would probably be their fate if they made an effort to meet the call. But then they would not. The hurry and drive would simply revolt their sense of what was due to a gentleman.—Pall Mall Magazine.

Mrs. Cleveland's Courtesy.

The following pretty story is told of Mrs. Grover Cleveland: At one of the public receptions given at the White House an old lady who was drawn up in the line that was pushing its way forward to shake hands with the president's wife dropped her handkerchief just before getting to Mrs. Cleveland. She was too old and rheumatic to stoop down and recover it, and those back of her in the line were too intent upon getting the one fleeting glimpse possible of the mistress of the White House to notice the old lady's loss, and the handkerchief was trampled upon roughly.

Just before the old lady reached her Mrs. Cleveland stepped out of her place and deftly picked up the handkerchief, tucked it in her dress and, taking her own fresh one, which was of the most delicate, dainty lace, smilingly handed it to the old lady with the sweet remark, "Please take mine, and when you get home send it back to me, will you?" And when the handkerchief came back to her Mrs. Cleveland returned that of the owner, freshly laundered, lying on the top of a beautiful box of rosebuds that came from the White House conservatory.

Queen Thinks So Too.

A private wire to the Gazette says the queen of Spain express herself thusly: "It was rather wet for me at Manila, quite Dewey in fact; at Santiago Sampson played it so Schley I was forced to take Hobson's choice and a Shafter 21 didn't like; but say, Watson of a gun are they sending up against me now.—Pleasant Hill Gazette.

DEDICATION

First German Lutheran Church of Benton Harbor Opened Yesterday...

The First German Lutheran church of this city was dedicated yesterday with impressive ceremonies.

The church is situated at the corner of Harrison and Lavette streets and is a neat and commodious structure, capable of holding about 300 people and was filled, many people being forced to stand up at the services yesterday.

The services yesterday morning were in German and conducted by Rev. Herman Peter, pastor of the church with a sermon by Prof. Klingman of Ann Arbor. The brass orchestra of the German Lutheran church of St. Joseph furnished excellent music. In the afternoon services were conducted by Pastor Bast of South Haven, and the church was again crowded. In the evening Rev. Peter delivered a sermon in English in which he complimented the members of the Lutheran society for their enterprise and said that this was but a beginning of the work planned in this city.

The church is a handsome little structure, 40x60, 16 feet high and was built by L. L. Merrill, at a cost of $1,200 together with the lot making about $2,000 the total cost. The basement has been fitted up for a school-room where the children of the members of the church attend school during the week. The pastor of the church teaches the school. In the forenoon German is taught and in the afternoon they are instructed in the English language.

It is the intention of this denomination to build a parsonage on the lot next to the church next year.

PINGREE AND ALGER.

A few weeks ago Governor Pingree was bitterly finding fault with Secretary Alger because the army was sent to the tropics dressed in Klondike clothing. Now the same governor is defending, praising, and hobnobbing with the war secretary with whom he found so much fault such a little while ago.

The why and the wherefore of all this is puzzling many people. Mr. Pingree was at Washington last week and while there he was the guest of Gen. Alger. He rode about in Mr. Alger's private carriage, he took a trip to New York in Mr. Alger's private car, he dined at Mr. Alger's table, he called on the president with Mr. Alger and the three held a long and happy conference.

The evidence is all in favor of the idea that the governor and secretary of war have not only signed a protocol but that a final peace treaty has been signed, sealed and delivered. It is possible that Senator McMillan may be appointed ambassador to the Court of St. James and that Governor Pingree will then appoint Secretary Alger to the senate to succeed McMillan. This would necessitate the election of two senators at the next session of the legislature and a Pingree-Alger combination backed up by President McKinley could dictate the election of both.

At any rate, the "old man" did not visit Washington for nothing and it is evident that he secured what he went after.

Encouraging a Youth.

Congressman McClellan of New York, who is remarkably youthful in his appearance, is said by the Washington Times to be in the habit of telling the following story against himself: About two weeks after my first appearance in the house I left my hotel late. I had not had time to read the papers, and picking up a dozen or more, I placed them under my arm and boarded a car. I left it at the entrance to the capitol grounds, and was hastening toward the building, when an elderly man, who it was evident hailed from the rural districts, accosted me. "Air you a-goin' to the capitol," he asked. "Yes," I replied. "So'm I," he said. "That is a privilege every man in this country may enjoy," I answered. "Yes, I guess that's what we fit fer," said my new acquaintance, and then he added, "What air you in such a hurry for?" "I want to get rid of these papers," I answered in a reckless way, pointing to the bundle beneath my arm. "Hum, young man!" said the man, as gravely as an undertaker, "why don't you remember you're a man now, and stop sellin' newspapers, behave yourself and be elected to congress, and become a great man, like Dan'l Webster?"

Stone Soles.

An inventor has hit upon a method of putting stone soles on boots and shoes. He mixes a water-proof glue with a suitable quantity of clean quartz sand, and spreads it over the leather sole used as foundation. These quartz soles are said to be very flexible and practically indestructible, and to give the foot a firm hold even on the most slippery surface.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there it at least one decade disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address F. J. The Feathered Mob.

"Did you ever know that the English sparrow is a tramp," asked Depot Superintendent Sanford the other day. "Well, he is, and the worst kind of a 'hobo.' Recently I have seen a flock of them fly from under the pilot of one locomotive to the pilot of an outgoing locomotive, and in that way they travel over the country.

"Sharp? Well I should say so. It's the brightest bird I know of, as I have maintained for a long time." Mr. Sanford was in dead earnest, and the reporter went out to look for himself at these "tramp" sparrows. As he stood under the sheds at the union depot a big Missouri Pacific engine came along pulling in slowly from its long trip from St. Louis. No sooner had the train come to a standstill until out from under the pilot of the locomotive hopped a dozen English sparrows. They looked around as if to get their bearings, and then made straight for the pilot of a Burlington engine. They disappeared, and remained there until the train pulled out.

Sure enough the English sparrow is a tramp. Evidently they are sharp enough to know they will be transported over the country without exertion. It may be that they enjoy the rapidly moving engine, at least it evidently pleases them to take a free ride.—Kansas City Times.

Burns Won the Dinner.

There is a story told of Robert Burns in his youth. Burns was living in the town of Ayr and, though still young, had attained more than a local reputation as a poet. One day he was passing through the main street of the town and saw two strangers sitting at one of the inn windows. With idle curiosity he stopped to look at them. Seeing him and thinking that the rustic might afford them some amusement while waiting, the strangers called him in and asked him to dine with them. Burns readily accepted the invitation and proved a merry, entertaining guest.

When dinner was nearly finished, the strangers suggested that each should try his hand at versemaking and that the one who failed to write a rhyme should pay for the dinner. They felt secure in the challenge, believing that their rustic guest would pay for the meal. The rhymes were written, and Burns read the following: "I, Johnny Peep, saw two sheep; two sheep saw me. Half a crown apiece will pay for their fleece, and I, Johnny Peep, go free." The strangers' astonishment was great, and they both exclaimed: "Who are you? You must be Robbie Burns!" —New Castle (England) Chronicle.

A Bismarck Reminiscence.

Professor Aegidi, who was for many years the chief of the press bureau, under Prince Bismarck, has published the following reminiscence of Prince Bismarck and the czar, Alexander II: "Before the outbreak of the Franco-German war the czar was with King William at Ems. They were together one evening, and Prince Bismarck was standing at the other end of the room anxiously watching the czar, whose more or less friendly attitude toward Prussia's policy was a matter of very great importance.

"Suddenly the czar's big dog, which had been lying silent under its master's chair, rose, prowled about the room, stopped before Prince Bismarck, looked at him, wagged its tail affectionately and licked the hand he held out toward it. The czar, who had attentively watched its movements, called out to Prince Bismarck at this moment, 'You see, the dog knows his master's friends.'"

Prince Bismarck, who told Aegidi this story, added: "I felt relieved. That was a historical moment for our policy."—Berlin Cor. London Standard.

The Russian Wolf Hound.

Faroff Russia, where winters are so severe that but for a few months in the entire year are the fields free from snow, is the home of a breed of dogs known there as the Borzoi, or Psovoi. The dogs are grand in aspect, with long, flowing coats of silken texture that defy the terrible cold, and they are built on lines that speak volumes for the antiquity of their origin. In this country they are known as Russian wolf hounds. England is the country that has perhaps done most for the breed. Some 15 years ago the Briton secured the best that Russia had and bred them with the exceeding judgment he displays in such matters. He today possesses beyond question some of the grandest living. Within the past few years, however, Germany has made most wonderful strides in breeding these dogs, and, together with the Briton, has brought them very rapidly to the fore.—Outing.

A Wonderful Map.

The ordinance survey map of England, which contains over 108,000 sheets, and which has cost $1,000,000 a year for 20 years to keep up to date, is said to be the largest map in the world. The scale varies from ten feet to one-eighth of an inch to the mile. The details are so minute that sheets having a scale of 25 inches show every hedge, fence, wall, building and even every isolated tree in the country.

One Definition.

"What is your idea of a political economist?" "Well," replied Senator Sorghum reflectively, "there's lots of different kinds. But my idea of the genuine article is the man who manages to put by enough while he has an office to pay the expense of getting it for another term."—Washington Star.

Papa's Business.

"What does your father do, little girl?" asked the new teacher. "He is a conflagration ejector," said the little girl from Boston. "A what?" "He puts fires out."—Philadelphia North American.

SEEK METHODS THAT MAKE WELL. Allopathic, hydropathic, hydrochloric, hydropathic, psychopathic, electric, physio-medical, dietetic, bio-chemical, artificial and other systems investigated and the best principles of each applied for conditions in which they have proven the most beneficial. No one school of medicine has all the good things, there is some one remedy that is best of all in each. The real physician must represent not one school system or pathy, but the healing art in all its entirety, study and comprehend all curative measures, then select and apply the pleasantest, safest and surest. It is better to cure by any system that will accomplish such result, than to obstinately orthodox in methods. The motto of a true healer is "Not code or creed, but cure."

An Accommodating Neighbor.

Not long back Mr. X. moved into a new house, which had not before been occupied. The bell wires were rather stiff, and in consequence the bells gave no uncertain sound. This was particularly the case with the doorbell, whose clangor disturbed the whole house.

Mr. X. is a man of sensitive nerves. The tremendous jangle of the doorbell made him shudder, so he wrote in chalk above the handle of the doorpost, "Pull gently."

About 9 that evening there was a violent ringing. Somebody tugged at the bell as if he were going to pull it out by the roots. The noise was terrific. X. himself ran to the door in a rage and found his friend Z.

"What the dickens do you mean by ringing that way?" exclaimed X. indignantly. "Don't you see what's written there?"

"Yes," answered Z, "I do see—that's why I pulled so hard."

X. looked at the writing and saw, "Pull urgently." A passing wag had added the "ur." X. has now muffled the bell. —London Telegraph.

Artillery Terms.

All artillery may be divided into two main classes, heavy and light. Heavy artillery is called also garrison artillery. Heavy artillery guns are placed permanently in forts, and the men who handle them form foot artillery batteries and regiments. Light artillery refers to guns not permanently emplaced—that is, light enough to be taken from place to place by means of horses and maneuvered by hand. In our army the light artillery gunners ride on the caissons and gun carriages. In horse artillery the gunners ride horses, so that a horse artillery battery has a great many more horses than a light battery. We have no horse batteries in our army. A field battery is a light battery. A flying battery is a horse battery. Siege guns are between heavy and light artillery. They are intended to be placed permanently for the time being and are brought to their places by teams, but they are not maneuvered as light guns are. —New York Sun.

"Nunny Dummy."

In his "Highways and Byways In Devon and Cornwall" Arthur H. Norway tells of a fragment of antiquity that still "lingers in the neighborhood of Redruth, where the country people, when they see a ghost, say, 'Nunny dummy!'" and he adds, "I leave the riddle to be solved by any one who is curious enough to undertake a useful piece of practice in unraveling the corruption of language."

The phrase is probably a corruption of "In nomine Domini," the Latin for "In the name of the Lord," a phrase so familiar in the devotion of the middle ages.

Lost Time.

"Time is precious," remarked the minister

"It is indeed," replied the man of business, "and I've wasted lots of it."

"By indulging in foolish pleasures, I suppose?" said the good man.

"No," replied the other. "I lost it by being punctual in keeping my appointments with others." —Chicago News.

TWENTY-SIX ARE SERIOUSLY HURT.

Somehow the Block Signals Did Not Work and the Engineer of the Last Train Had No Warning of Danger Until It Was Too Late—Many of the Victims Are Children—List of the Casualties—Fatal Hotel Fire at Hot Springs, Ark.

Sharon, Mass., Aug. 22.—A frightful rear-end collision occurred in the Sharon station of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad at 7:30 last night when an express train which was running as the second section of a long train crashed into the first section, composed of local cars. As a result six persons were killed and twenty-six seriously injured. The injured were nearly all removed to Boston, on a special train which was met by ambulances and surgeons. The rear car of the local train was completely demolished and a portion of the second car, while the engine of the express train was crippled.

List of Dead and Wounded. The dead are: Franklin M. Waters, of Somerville, Mass.; Mrs. William J. Fitzpatrick, Boston; her granddaughter, Mary Fitzpatrick, 10 years of age, and her grandson 15 years old; a woman supposed to be Mrs. Watson, of Westerly, R. I.; Mrs. C. H. Briscoe, Revere.

The injured: James H. Fitzpatrick, Boston; Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Whitcomb, Boston; Mrs. James Ray and her aged mother, Jamaica Plain; Mr. Crockett, Somerville, Mass.; Mrs. Alice Braham, South Boston; Mr. and Mrs. Ericson and child; Daniel C. Cantor; D. C. McCann and Fred Tudor, South Boston; Mr. and Mrs. J. Ogden, Lowell; Mrs. Maggie O'Connor and two children, Boston; George Quinn, Providence; Miss Fitzpatrick, 8 years old, Boston; Mr. and Mrs. John Gordon, Boston; C. W. Dailman, Boston; Mrs. Ida M. Walker, Waltham; J. A. Phillips, Boston; A. E. Newmark, Pittsburg; Joseph M. Mann, Providence; Mrs. Della V. Brennan, South Boston; Marguerite M. Grimshaw, Somerville.

One of the Trains Behind Time. The two trains which were in the collision were usually combined into one long train, but as the traffic was so heavy it was divided, the first section running as a local accommodation while the second, which started from Mansfield fifteen minutes later than the first, ran as an express. The local train was thirteen minutes late. It left Mansfield on time, making two stops, and had lost the thirteen minutes between Mansfield and Sharon. It was due in Canton Junction, the next station beyond Sharon, two minutes ahead of the express train, which should have passed it there. Sharon is situated on a curve, and both the outward and inward tracks are protected by electric block signals.

Warning Whistle Was Too Late. There was no warning given by the conductor of the Mansfield local to show the approaching train that the track was not clear at the station, and it was not until he was within 400 feet of the station that the engineer of the express noticed anything wrong. He immediately set all brakes and whistled the warning, but it was too late to stop the express. It crashed into the rear car, splitting it asunder and completely demolishing it with the exception of the roof. The escaping steam entered the car and badly scalded a number of the occupants. The roof of the last car was forced on top of the engine of the express and remained there as the only portion of the car intact.

THREE KNOWN TO BE DEAD

In the Ruins of the National Hotel at Hot Springs—Others Hurt.

Hot Springs, Ark., Aug. 22.—A fire which resulted in the loss of two hotels, a livery stable and several private residences, and cost at least three human lives, started in the National hotel at 3 o'clock Saturday morning. The identified dead are: Abe Matthews, of Greenville, Miss.; W. H. Willis, of Randolph county, Ark.; and Mr. Hughes, of Tulsa, I. T. Among the seriously burned are Mrs. Eula Jeffreys, a visitor from the Indian territory, and Patrolman Wiley, of the local police department. A dozen or more were more or less injured and it is believed by some of the guests and employees of the hotel that more lives were lost and that when search is made in the ruins several bodies will be found.

The property destroyed was the National hotel, a three-story structure, and two cottages immediately adjoining; the Kentucky livery stable and the Windsor hotel. The fire originated in the National hotel and before it was discovered one entire side and the top of the building was in flames and the roof ready to collapse. The guests were aroused by the intense heat to find the building falling in upon them and the stairway leading to the first floor, which was their only means of escape from the second and third stories, burning fiercely. There was but one way to life—a jump out of the windows and that was the way Hughes died. The others were burned to death.

GAS PLUG BLEW OUT.

And Cost Chicago Parties $350,000—Grain Elevator Burned.

Chicago, Aug. 22.—The Northwestern Terminal elevator at Market street and the Chicago river was destroyed by fire Saturday night, entailing a total loss of $350,000. Of this amount $20,000 fell upon the Chicago and Northwestern Railway company, whose freight yards are close to the elevator. The balance of the loss falls upon the elevator company, which owned the grain in the building.

The fire originated by a gas plug blowing out when John Smith, watchman of the building, went into the engine room to turn off the gas for the night. The man carried a lighted lantern with him, and as the escaping gas rushed out of the pipe after the plug was blown out it ignited by the light of the lantern.

FAVORS HOME WORKINGMEN.

Gov. Tanner on the Proposal to Bring Outside Men to Pana.

Springfield, Ills., Aug. 22.—To a delegation of striking miners who called on him Saturday to ask his assistance against the coal operators at Pana in the matter of bringing in negro miners from other states to take the place of the strikers, Governor Tanner said that if the strikers' statements were true the mine owners were at fault; that in any event he had no sympathy with the plan of importing labor into Illinois, black or white; that he had enough citizens and taxpayers in Illinois to perform all the work, or, in other words, to supply all the demand for labor; also, that the importing of labor would not have the sympathy of the administration, nor, in his opinion, of the public, and if they did so the mine owners did it at their own peril, and those that came as imported bodies into the state came at their peril. However, he proposed to maintain order and protect life and property, and said the miners must obey the laws if they expected to retain the good opinion of the administration and the public.

Lincoln, Ills., Aug. 22.—Captain D. H. Harts, principal owner of the Pana coal mine, where so much trouble is existing among strikers, declared Saturday to the Associated Press representative that they would put outside non-union men to work in their mine no matter what may be the consequences, as they will not let their mines stand idle, and under existing circumstances they cannot afford to pay the district or arbitration scales.

EXPANSION CONFERENCE.

Practically Gets Into the Annexation Band Wagon.

Saratoga, N. Y., Aug. 22.—With words of praise and highest commendation for President McKinley and his administration during the war with Spain, and with expressions of gratitude to the men of the army and navy for the valorous work they have performed, the Civic Federation's national conference on the future foreign policy of the United States came to a close Saturday. The resolutions adopted are good enough expansion for almost anybody. Where they get down to business they say:

"We believe that the rescued and liberated people of the surrendered islands are in a sense temporarily the wards of the conquering nation and that we should treat them as such. With our view of natural right and of the inestimable privileges of civil liberty we should not be justified in returning the conquered islands to the misrule and oppression from which we have relieved them. As soon as the islands under our present protection can be trusted to govern themselves they should be allowed to do so, the United States retaining under its authority only necessary naval stations. Until such time as they may be able to govern themselves they should continue under the protection of the United States, and the question as to whether, at some future period, and at the mutual desire of both, they should be permanently annexed should be left to the time when it arises."

BIGGEST FLAG IN THE COUNTRY.

Measures 60 by 100 Feet and Is Suspended Between Two Mountain Tops.

Tyrone, Pa., Aug. 22.—The largest American flag in the country was unfurled Saturday afternoon between two mountain tops east of the town, and 550 feet above the surface of the Juniata river. The ceremonies were preceded by a parade in which all the civic societies of Tyrone participated. At 3 o'clock, accompanied by the booming of cannon and the blowing of steam whistles, the beautiful flag was unfolded. A letter was received from President McKinley expressing his regret at not being able to attend. The flag measures 60 by 100 feet, and is suspended from a galvanized wire cable an inch thick and 3,200 feet in length.

Pardon of an Octogenarian.

Madison, Wis., Aug. 22.—Governor Scofield Saturday pardoned Patrick McDonald, an inmate of the state prison. McDonald is over 80 years old and has been for thirty years a "trustee" under the various wardens of the prison. During his entire term he has not received a black mark for violation of the prison rules. He received a life sentence for murder committed in Dorr county, he having pleaded guilty.

Horrible Death on the Rail.

Springfield, Ills., Aug. 22.—Near Mount Pulaski Saturday Thomas Boken, aged 27 years, was killed in a shocking manner. He was stealing a ride on a tank of sulphuric acid in a freight train when the wreck occurred. The car upon which the tank was placed left the track and turned over. Boken was pinned beneath the car. The tank burst and Boken was burned to death by the terrible acid.

President Invited to Omaha.

Washington, Aug. 22.—E. Rosewater, of Omaha, Neb., called on the president Saturday in behalf of the Omaha exposition, and formally tendered an invitation to attend the exposition. The president expressed a desire to accept and said if his duties permitted he would attend late in the autumn.

Bicyclist Fatally Hurt.

Tiffin, O., Aug. 22.—Charles Klopp of Green Spring met with a terrible accident while riding a bicycle. He collided with a horse and buggy and one of the thills penetrated his body at the breast, protruding several inches from his back. He is still alive, but unconscious, and cannot recover.

SEEK METHODS THAT MAKE WELL. Allopathic, homoeopathic, hydropathic, hygienic, psychopathic, electric, physio-medical, diosmetric, bio-chemical, critical and other systems investigated and the best principles of each applied for conditions in which they have proven the most beneficial. No one school of medicine has all the good things, there is some one remedy that is best of all in each. The real physician must represent not one school system or pathy, but the healing art in all its entirety, study and compare all curative measures, then select and apply the pleasantest, safest and surest. It is better to cure by any system that will accomplish such result than be obstinately orthodox in methods. The motto of a true healer is "Not cure or creed, but cure."

TO THE PUBLIC It is but just to you and myself that I make some mention of my fitness for the work I would undertake. I am of a medical family. I have attended and hold credentials from leading colleges of various schools or systems of medicine. For years I have successfully conducted a large practice. I have held high office in state and national medical societies and received honorary professional recognition abroad. I have had considerable hospital experience, and as an intimate associate of distinguished experts and familiar with their methods; am something of a medical author and have been professor in reputable medical colleges. These statements can be easily verified. If they commend me to your confidence it will give me pleasure to professionally advise and assist, heartily and all who need and desire my services. Office practice preferred, but if properly arranged for, visits will be made any distance. Respectfully, Siberian Prisons.

The Rev. Dr. Lansell publicly stated, after a thorough visit to Siberia, that should he ever have to change from clerical to convict life, he would choose Siberia and not Millbank or any other
English prison, as the scene of labor.
I have no hesitancy to say that personally I prefer prison life in Siberia to Sing Sing, and to set the stamp of my approval upon the prison, following the kindly invitations of the chief of police,
I was about to transfer my baggage from the hotel of the rich Chinaman to the jail. However, though the prison tempted me by its superior comfort, better food and bathtubs, I had to give up the project. Interesting things were to be seen in the town and upon the great river every minute of the day, so I remained with Tai Phoon-Tai, only visiting the prison for my tub every day. As upon my first visit I was always allowed to walk about the place and visit all the prisoners, and I saw nothing to change my opinion of the cleanliness and the humane condition under which they lived.—Stephen Bonsal in Harper's Magazine.

A Marvelous Time Measurer.
As illustrating the triumphs of modern science in the construction of instruments of precision The Scientific American instances a chronograph for recording infinitesimal intervals of time, such as a millionth of a second or less, which is stated to have been used to record autographically the compres-sion by a blow of a cylindrical piece of copper. In one case a 33 pound weight fell 15 inches and produced a permanent compression of .1658 inch in a copper cylinder, the time consumed in producing this compression being .00030317 of a second. The machine produces by means of photography a curve showing the precise progress of this compression. The chronograph which reaches such remarkable results consists of a rotating cylinder, with a surface velocity of 100 feet a second, on which is photographed a pencil of light, which is passed through a hole in the end of a rapidly vibrating tuning fork.
The delicacy of this instrument is far greater than that of the ordinary tuning fork chronograph recording on a surface blackened by smoke.

Hotel Clocks Always Truthful.
"When I am traveling, I never put the slightest confidence in a household clock," writes Robert J. Burdette of "Tongueless Liars," in The Ladies' Home Journal. "A hotel clock I can depend upon. There are too many watches in a hotel—good watches, watches whose absolute correctness means money to the commercial men who regulate the traveling life of this country. A lying clock would be spotted in a quarter of a second, and the unhappy clerk scoured with pitiless sarcasms therefor. In the course of my wanderings up and down this part of the globe I missed a few trains and lecture engagements by depending upon clocks in the homes of my friends.
Having thus paid for my lesson, $15-000 or $20,000, I think, by my own computation of the value of my lectures (set ahead a little bit, you know, it may be a trifle fast. I haven't time to look up the exact figures.) I withdrew all my trust from mantle clocks, especially the highly ornamented marble and gilt varieties with silver bells or cathedral chimes."

Nicely Caught.
A few evenings ago a gentleman stepped from a train at one of the London stations, when a young lady skipped up to him, threw her arms rapturously about his neck and kissed him many times, saying:
"Oh, papa, I'm so glad you have come!"
The old gentleman threw both arms around her and held her firmly to his breast.
Soon she looked up into his face, and horror stood in her eye.
"Oh, my, you're not my papa!" she said, trying to free herself from his embrace.
"Yes, I am," insisted the old gentleman, holding her tightly. "You are my long lost daughter, and I am going to keep you in my arms till I get a police-man."

Looking Backward.
The titles of the king of Spain suggest a large part of the history of the world. He is king of Jerusalem, which is Turkish; of Navarre, which is French; of Gibraltar, which is British, and of the East and West Indies, which are largely British; duke of Brabant and count of Flanders, now the two independent kingdoms of Holland and Belgium, and sovereign of numerous other lands long since independent or under the undisputed sway of other powers. He bears upon his person indeed an epitome of the glory and the fall of Spain.

The Scholar.
Dr. Evans, a witty member of the parliament at Melbourne, was an old man, and the other members jokingly spoke of him as belonging to the era of Queen Anne.
Once, while making a speech, he referred to Queen Anne and was greeted with cries of "Did you know her?"
"What was she like?"
"Yes, sir," retorted the doctor, "I did know her. The scholar is contemporary with all time."

According to an old French saying,
"A man's character is like his shadow, which sometimes follows and sometimes precedes him, and which is occasionally longer, occasionally shorter than he is."

Brazil produces on the average 800.

INDIANAPOLIS ENTERTAINS THOUSANDS OF KNIGHTS

Indianapolis, Aug. 22.—The bi-ennial encampment of the Knights of Pythias opened today with thousands of knights present. Fully 75,000 are expected during the week.

The report of the supreme chancellor shows a gain of 14,000 new members but deprecates the fact that the growth of the order on this continent is a thing of the past and urges the extension of the order into foreign countries.

Indications point to the election of Stanton Carter of California for supreme vice chancellor. Other aspirants are Charles Shevey of Indiana and Ogden Fethers of Wisconsin.

CAPTURED.

The Burglar Wounded by W. G. Blish of Niles.

Niles, Aug. 22.—The burglar wounded last week by W. G. Blish of this city was captured about two miles from here Sunday morning at 2 o'clock.

He is a colored man giving his name as William Ganz and claims that his home is in Baltimore, Md. The whole side of his face is shot away but it is thought that he will live.

K. OF P'S. OFF.

They Left By Special Big Four Train This Morning.

Today is the opening day of the National K. of P. encampment at Indianapolis. A special train left on the Big Four at 10:30 this morning with the following gentlemen aboard: W. E. Buss, J. O. Felts, Fred A. Hobbs, H. B. Volheim, V. A. Lowe, C. J. Peck, Dr. J. Bell, R. P. Chaddock, C. W. Schriver, J. O. Rowe, W. C. Hovey and last but not least "Pap" Scott with brass buttons who will look after the comfort of the boys while away.

O. E. Fifield and wife left here last Saturday and R. B. Hewson of Chicago, will join the boys in camp.

A HAPPY EVENT.

Saturday afternoon the ladies of the G. A. R. met and completely surprised the mother of the circle, Mrs. Sarah Bell. As an expression of gratitude for the work she has done in piecing a silk quilt (which will soon be offered for sale) the proceeds to apply on the soldiers' monument fund, the ladies presented her with a beautiful photograph album, also a pretty pen knife, for "As ye sew ye shall also rip." Other kindly tokens were a neat spectacle pocket from Mrs. Dr. Brooks, some exquisite flowers from other ladies, and a poem from the next oldest lady of the circle, Mrs. Christopher, who is over 80 years old, when we copy:

From childhood up seems few the days
Yet time decimates with a hasty pace away.
How many years pass back on other scenes
On youth, its fairest, fondest days.

The joys and griefs of other years retreat
Which time no distance power can efface.
Dear hearts now so old and true who have Gone.

Until at last you're almost left alone,
Yet not alone. No! Not alone!
Our Father's promise we shall all care
Our guiding star of life, through our life
Has ever shown so bright and clear.

Then as the evening shadows lengthen
And life's short day has nearly gone,
Then dear friends may yet be strengthened
Hoping for that brighter morn.
FANNIE H. CHRISTOPHER.

ST. JOSEPH.

Clayton Smith, the polite young man who sells ice cream at the Drake & Wallace pavilion is now a heroic figure in St. Joseph. Saturday morning about 12:30 o'clock after returning from the last trip of the boat to Somerleyton he went to the pavilion to see that everything was right. Two men met him and demanded that he throw up his hands. The demand was backed up by two revolvers. Smith protested that he was unarmed and that without throwing up his hands he would do their bidding. They asked for the keys to the pavilion. Smith put his hand in his pocket to pull out the keys but instead snatched out a revolver and fired. The fellows who were bent on holding him up fled and he fired several shots at their fast disappearing forms.

William R. Worix went to Grand Rapids Saturday on business.

Stole Jewels.

Victor Plummer, of Buchanan, was brought up before Justice of Peace William Kellar of Buchanan for stealing five unset sapphires and two unset garnets, valued at $100.50. He is being held in the county jail until the next term of the circuit court.

Card of Thanks.

To the friends who contributed their untiring services during the sad hours of our affliction we herein extend our heartfelt thanks, also to the friends and little boys who donated so many beautiful flowers.

OSCAR WEAVER,
CORA WEAVER.

Sleep on but suffer not little Homer,
Thou art gone to the land of the rest.
Where the wicked cease from troubling
And the weary be at rest.

It was hard to give up our little angel,
But we know he's now with the best.
We shall miss his dear little smile,
But we know he's doing his best.

Greatest Banquet on Record.
The greatest banquet in history took place on Aug. 18, 1889, when the 40,000 mayors of France sat at table in the Palais de l'Industrie in Paris. There were three relays of about 13,000 each. To prepare the feast required seventy-five chief cooks, 1,800 waiters, scullions, cellar-men and helpers, 80,000 plates, 52,000 glasses, knives, forks and spoons in proportion, 40,000 rolls, and fish, meat and fowl by the ton. The banquet was part of the centenary celebration of the events of 1789.

Cables Catch Whales.

Submarine cables are usually imbedded in the silty body of the ocean, but at certain points they hang like wire bridges over deep submarine valleys, so that whales and other large inhabitants of the deep may become dangerous to the cable. Once in a while it is the cable that becomes dangerous to the whales, as recently shown in an accident to the Western Brazilian line. There was some difficulty with the wire, and after many futile efforts the seat of the trouble was discovered seventy-six miles north of Santa Catharina. The cable ship Viking was sent to repair the damage, and began to take up the wire. After the cable proper had been grappled and was wound to the surface of the large drums provided for the purpose it was found that it floated very much easier and was more buoyant than is usually the case. The reason was discovered when in a loop of the cable the carcass of a whale of more than sixty feet in length came into view. It appears that the whale had become caught under the cable, and, not being able to lift it nor go forward nor back, it became suffocated. By its last spasms or attempts to free itself the whale had damaged the cable so that the insulation was rubbed off and the wire became useless.

RELIABILITY

is a quality some newspapers have lost sight of in these days of "yellow" journalism. They care little for truth and a great deal for temporary sensation.

It is not so with THE CHICAGO RECORD.

The success of THE RECORD rests upon its reliability.

It prints the news—all the news—and tells the truth about it.

It is the only American newspaper outside New York city that has its own exclusive dispatch boat service and its own staff correspondents and artists at the front in both hemispheres.

It is the best illustrated daily newspaper in the world.

Its war news service is unapproachably the best.

Says the Urbana (Ill.) Daily Courier:

"We read the war news in the other papers, then we turn to THE CHICAGO RECORD to see how much of it is true."

Sold by newsdealers everywhere and subscriptions received by all postmasters. Address THE CHICAGO RECORD, 181 Madison street, Chicago.
